

What to expect: Short party dresses with crinolines and fun prints, slinky and very skinny knit dresses and leggings, jumpsuits with corset detailing. It's an eclectic good girl/bad girl mix.

Price range: Dresses start at about $300.

Info: www.betseyjohnson.com

Made in Detroit

Designer: Joe Faris; Emilia Valentina, 31, of Royal Oak.

History: Made in Detroit was the early 1990s invention of Robert Stanzler. Now, Kid Rock owns the label, which is getting ready to expand its offerings beyond T-shirts, hats and jackets. "We're looking to be more than just a T-shirt company," says Tommy Dubak, Made in Detroit's president.

Expect to see: Dresses, long-sleeved button-up shirts and polos.

Price range: T-shirts start at about $24.

Info: www.madeindetroit.com

Note: Fashion in Detroit is sponsored by StyleLine, which is published by a division of the Detroit Media Partnership.