Restaurants offer something special for every mom this holiday

When it comes to mothers, one-size-fits-all does not apply.

That's why it's important to find the Mother's Day restaurant destination that best suits the personality and tastes of the mother in your life.

I know a couple of mothers who would absolutely hate being ushered into a grand buffet spread. They prefer a quieter, more intimate style. Others love the multiple choices offered by tables piled with seafood platters, molten chocolate cake and more.

Some crave a little entertainment with their eggs Benedict, and some would appreciate a mystery trip that takes them to a place they've never tried. Then there are the loyalists who want to return to a favorite.

Shocking discovery by Cambridge Researcher's for amazing joint relief...

This Sunday, restaurants all around town are offering brunches and/or dinners dedicated to the Mother's Day holiday. See which of these categories you think your mother fits into, and then make reservations.

Note: This is by no means a comprehensive list, rather just a sampling of what's available in the Metro area.

Glamour spots

Brunch at Iridescence atop the MotorCity Casino Hotel (2901 Grand River), or at Coach Insignia on the Renaissance Center's 71st and 72nd floors, in downtown Detroit. Each offers a luxurious buffet approach, along with a rooftop view. Iridescence combines the buffet with a la carte dishes. Timeline for Iridescence: 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. seatings. Bottom
