What's Hot: Mike Young of YACT

Nov 22, 2009 | E-mail | Print PDF

The Young American Comedy Tour is both exciting and inspiring for all Metro-Detroiters. Held on Wednesday, November 25, 2009 and the biggest bar night of the year, the show will be anything but dull. Thanks to a certain Detroiters, the tour has been incredibly successful.

Mike Young, originally of Southfield, now resides in Los Angeles. He created the Young American Comedy Tour just two years ago with a group of up-and-coming comedians from L.A.'s Comedy Store. The tour started on a 10-day trial basis and grew to 30 cities from the intensely positive reaction from audiences.

Young hosts the show with what critics refer to as "his own brand of comedy". He mixes comedy with DJ's, hip-hop and even go-go dancers. His routine includes incredibly comical real-life experiences. Young has performed with big names such as Bob Saget and Wanda Sykes.

Quoted as saying that Detroit has some of the best audiences in the country, Young hopes to "save the city through laughter". Prove him right by heading out to experience an amazing comic and a night of fun.
