Situated in Dearborn, MI, Om Spa offers an unparalleled medical spa experience that appeals to both Eastern and Western sensibilities. From ancient holistic rituals to modern clinical advances, the spa offers an interesting mix of treatments from around the world. Om Spa is the brainchild of co-owners Duane Kreil, M.D., and Bruce Rochefort, M.D., both obstetricians and gynecologists in the area. The two met during their residency training at Oakwood hospital in the mid-1990s. “We subsequently entered into private practice together forming West Village OB-GYN,” says Rochefort. “We purchased a large property with the entrepreneurial dream of combining a medical practice and medical spa together. We then split the project into two phases and completed the medical office first. During that time the concept of Om Spa—look well, live well, feel well—was conceived.”
