

Inhabiting the former Cafe Muse location, a tiny little hallway of a building on Washington Ave., the spot is by its very nature terribly cute and cozy. As Cafe Muse, it was cheery and eclectic and quaint. What Crepe? is just as quaint, but with a little more drama. The walls are a deep berry-stained red, with dramatic dark wood accents and a distinctly Parisian flair. The furniture, glassware, and plates are all amusingly mismatched, like the lone leftovers of an antique sale that desperately needed a home. You might sit in a plush velvet wingback chair, or on a backless leather bar stool. One plate might be flowery like something found in Grandma's pantry, and another might have a wild zebra pattern. The menus are made with old French record sleeves, completing the apparent effect of what almost feels like a trendy Euro-style antique salvage space. The (mismatched) wrought iron cafe tables out front complete the vibe of a thoroughly modern Parisian cafe reborn out of the old.

Photo courtesy of Michelle Matiyow and Lians for www.lmstudios.com

I noted before that creperies seem to be all the rage right now, so I will admit that my expectations for What Crepe? were a little high simply because I expected that they would (nay: MUST) have something new to offer to the scene already getting a little creped-out. The various crepe offerings around the city range in quality, with some more impressive than others. Prior to my discovery of What Crepe?, Le Petit Zinc was my favorite. And while I do still love the child-like sunniness of Le Petit Zinc, the menu at What Crepe? takes the, well, crepe.

Arnold Palmer is delicious
2 days ago

 Erin Cooks

An Erin Cooks Contest: The Gastrokid Cookbook
3 days ago

Appetites

Cochon Butcher has blogs
3 days ago

 News From The Cheese Caves

Marketing 101
6 days ago

Ideal Cheese Blog

Amedei Chuao Chocolate - A Luxury Chocolate Treat
2 weeks ago

CurdNerds - the cheese blog

Raw-Milk Cheese 101
4 months ago

Welcome to Slow Food Detroit

---

LABELS

336 Main (1)
African and Caribbean cuisine (1)
Allen Park (1)
Amicci's Pizza (1)
Andiamo (2)
Angelina Italian Bistro (5)
Ann Arbor (4)
Asian Village (6)
Assaggi Mediterranean Bistro (1)
Atlas Global Bistro (1)
B. Nektar Meadery (1)
Bacco Ristorante (1)
bar food (7)
BBQ (1)
Bean and Leaf Cafe (1)
Big Rock Chophouse (5)
Birmingham (16)