 MP3 of Today's Show

In light of his show tonight at St. Andrews Hall, electronic musician Moby sits down to have a conversation with Craig. Tonights performance is part of Moby's first tour in five years, following the release of his new album Wait for Me.

October is breast cancer awareness month. Nationwide in 2009 almost 200,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer, and almost 40,000 will die from it. In Michigan this year there will be 1,350 deaths and 6,480 new cases. Breast cancer is 98% survivable if caught in it's earliest stages. That is why the American Cancer Society is insisting that Michigan have more of an impact. Joining us is Vicki Rakowski, COO of the American Cancer Society's Great Lakes Division.

How do some people look so attractive stylistically, so in tune with their appearance? On October 1st, "the Motor City will transform into Fashion City," says Fashion in Detroit, an organization promising to shine the "fashion spotlight" on Detroit. It's co-founded by Joe Faris, who's recognized for many fashion accomplishments, including a position as top finalist on Project Runway, Season 5. Speaking with Craig and Quinn today Faris will hopefully give us some expert insight on what it takes to dress in style!
